Scheduler

Standard Operating Procedure

Purpose:

This SOP defines how Schedulers at Woldenga Property Services manage bookings and cleaning assignments in ResortCleaning.

The goal is to ensure that all cleans are accurately plotted, verified, and assigned in a timely, fair, and practical manner, while allowing enough time to address possible schedule changes or declined assignments.

Scope:

- This SOP applies to Schedulers, who are responsible for planning, plotting, matching, and assigning cleaning cases in ResortCleaning.
- It outlines the procedures for plotting and coordinating schedules, matching cleaning cases, assigning cases, managing schedule changes, and addressing last-minute assignments.

1. Scheduler Roles

Your role as Scheduler is to ensure all property bookings and cleaning requirements are accurately reflected in ResortCleaning and assigned to housekeeping professionals in a timely, fair, and practical manner.

You are responsible for:

- Plotting bookings and cleaning cases in ResortCleaning
- Identifying and correcting scheduling discrepancies
- Assigning cleans to housekeeping professionals
- Managing reschedules and last-minute changes
- Reviewing property-specific scheduling requirements

2. Scheduling & Assignment Workflow

a. Plan the Scheduling Window

Plan ahead to allow enough time to prepare assignments and reassign declined cleans.

Four-Week View

Review bookings and expected cleaning requirements up to one month ahead.

This gives you visibility of the upcoming workload and allows you to plot cleans before starting the schedule match-up.

[redacted] Assignment Window

Aim to assign cleans about [redacted] in advance.

MARY SHARRA • DOCUMENTATION PORTFOLIO • NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION

Housekeeping professionals have up to [redacted] and, as [redacted], may accept or decline assignments.

Scheduling early gives you time to reassign declined cleans before the service date. Pending cleans are also supported by an automated daily reminder until the housekeeping professional takes action.

b. Plot Cleaning Cases

Ensure that all known cleans for the upcoming month are plotted in ResortCleaning.

Review:

- Ai[redacted]
- Breez[redacted]
- [redacted]
- Client and Property Manager communications

Manual Plotting

Newbook and Breezeway do not automatically integrate with ResortCleaning. You must manually plot all the required cleans from these platforms up to one month ahead.

You should also manually plot cleans for:

- Direct bookings by Property Managers
- Calendar blocks that do not automatically create a ResortCleaning case

Check L&R Requirements

While plotting the case, confirm whether the property is under Woldenga's [redacted] service:

- [redacted] Property: Add a Storage Pick-Up Task so the housekeeping professionals can collect the required supplies before going to the property.
- [redacted] Property: The Property Manager provides the supplies required for the clean, so there's no need to add a Storage Pick-Up Task.

c. Perform Schedule Match-Up

Once you've plotted all known cases, compare the cleans in ResortCleaning against the booking platforms and client communications.

Make sure:

- Every booking requiring a clean has a corresponding cleaning case
- Dates match across both systems
- Cancelled bookings have been removed
- Back-to-back cleans are correctly identified

If you find a discrepancy:

Booking exists but clean is missing

→ Manually create the clean in ResortCleaning.

Booking was cancelled but ResortCleaning still shows the clean

→ Delete the clean.

Booking or clean did not sync correctly

→ Correct or manually plot the required case.

Back-to-Back Cleans

Check the TA icon in ResortCleaning.

Some back-to-back cases may not appear correctly after integration, so verify these against the booking platform during schedule match-up.

d. Assign the Cleaning Case

Once you have confirmed that the schedule is accurate and all property requirements have been reviewed, assign the cleans to available housekeeping professionals.

When assigning work, consider:

- Current workload
- Property size

MARY SHARRA · DOCUMENTATION PORTFOLIO · NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION

- Number of cleans already assigned
- Property location
- Travel route between assignments (check [redacted] and [redacted] Market Map)
- Scheduling restrictions
- Timing and turnaround requirements

Assigning Standard

Distribute assignments based on workload, availability, property size, and scheduling requirements.

Avoid assigning a housekeeping professional:

- Too many cleans
- Too little work when work is available
- Multiple large homes that create an unrealistic workload
- Routes that create unnecessary travel or scheduling conflicts

e. Adjusting Staff Planner

After the case has been assigned, review and adjust the Staff Planner to ensure each cleaning is scheduled based on when it's due to be completed.

- For TA (Turnaround) cleans, adjust the due time based on the property's standard check-in time.
- For normal checkout cleans, set the due time to [redacted] PM.
- Ensure all assigned cleans are properly adjusted and aligned with their required completion time.

3. Rescheduling

Before rescheduling a clean, review the property's scheduling notes, property details, and client-specific instructions.

If the requested service date cannot be accommodated:

MARY SHARRA • DOCUMENTATION PORTFOLIO • NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION

1. Check whether the Property Manager allows rescheduling.
2. If the property is strict, keep the requested schedule. If the property is flexible, identify a suitable alternative schedule.
3. Record the property and reschedule request in the Rescheduling Sheet within the Master Spreadsheet.
4. Confirm and update the revised assignment.

4. Last-Minute Bookings & Schedule Changes

For last-minute bookings or changes, do not rely on the ResortCleaning assignment alone.

1. For an existing booking that becomes back-to-back, review the assigned housekeeping professional's notes and confirm whether they can prioritize and complete the clean before the guest check-in.

[redacted]

4. Identify an available housekeeping professional who can complete the clean before the guest check-in, when the currently-assigned professional can't accommodate it or when there's no existing booking or assignment.
5. Communicate the assignment directly to the housekeeping professional and provide the necessary schedule details.
6. Explain the priority of the last-minute clean and the required completion time.
7. If needed, move a lower-priority clean to make room for the urgent assignment.
8. Get a confirmation from the housekeeping professional.
9. Update ResortCleaning to reflect the schedule changes and the final assignment.

Important:

MARY SHARRA · DOCUMENTATION PORTFOLIO · NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION

Distribute assignments based on workload, availability, property size, and scheduling requirements.

5. Final Scheduler Check

Before considering the schedule complete, make sure:

✓ Bookings match across ResortCleaning and the booking platforms

✓ Missing cleans have been manually created

✓ Cancelled cleans have been removed

✓ Back-to-back cleans are correctly identified

✓ Property scheduling notes have been reviewed

✓ L&R storage pick-up tasks have been created where required

✓ Cleans have been distributed fairly

✓ Property size, location, and routes were considered

✓ Housekeeping professional acceptance or decline is being monitored

✓ Reschedules are recorded in the Rescheduling Sheet

✓ Last-minute changes have been directly communicated and confirmed

✓ The Staff Planner has been updated to reflect the final schedule

Compliance

Schedulers are responsible for consistently following the procedures outlined in this SOP to ensure cleaning schedules are accurate, assignments are properly coordinated, and schedule changes are documented and communicated appropriately.

All scheduling activities should be completed within the required timelines, with accurate updates maintained in ResortCleaning and the applicable tracking sheets.

Failure to follow the requirements outlined in this SOP may result in corrective guidance and additional review of the affected schedules or assignments to ensure compliance with established scheduling procedures and standards.
